KENNER RESTAURANT WEEK WHERE TO EAT TODAY

Kenner, LA. - If you're interested in turning a meal today into a charitable venture, head to Raising Canes at 3344 Williams Blvd. between 3 and 9 p.m. and Dots Diner, 2239 Williams Blvd. between 2 and 10 p.m.

The two popular eateries are participating in Restaurant Week in Kenner, which started today and continues through June 11.

During the weeklong period, anyone eating at a participating restaurant while the promotion is in effect need only mention the Mayor's Youth Advisory Council, or MYAC, to have a percentage of the meal donated to benefit Kenner Recreation and the playground in Veteran's Park.

The Youth Council is made up of 20 teens interested in learning about how local government works and giving back to their community. Restaurant Week is a way for the group to raise money for a charitable service project: the rebuild of Veteran's Park.

"It's really impressive that these teens want to create a tradition of service projects for future Youth Councils," Mayor Michael Yenni said. "I want to thank the restaurants that are participating, and I hope they are packed with customers wanting to help Veterans Park and the Kenner Recreation Department."

For more information on Restaurant Week contact Kenner Deputy Chief Administrative Officer Natalie Newton at 468-7240.
