

READY RESUME

PRESS RELEASE

Free Disaster Preparedness Workshops for Small-Business Owners

A free workshop series has been developed for small-business owners, nonprofits and those who prepare and respond to natural and man-made hazards.

Four workshops will be held in southeast Louisiana this February. Registration for each is available at centerforbusinessprep.org/news.

Tuesday, February 19: Mandeville, Council Chambers,
21490 Koop Road, 8 a.m. – 12 noon

Thursday, February 21: Slidell, Towers Building Conference Room,
520 Old Spanish Trail, 8 a.m. – 12 noon

Tuesday, February 26: Kenner, Park Pavilion, 3800 Loyola Drive,
8 a.m. – 12 noon

Thursday, February 28: Belle Chasse, YMCA, 8101 Highway 23,
8 a.m. – 12 noon

Developed by LSU's Stephenson Disaster Management Institute (SDMI) under a grant awarded by the Louisiana Governor's Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness (GOHSEP), with funds provided by FEMA, participants will receive hands-on training and printed materials that cover all aspects of hazard mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery.

Registration is limited. Breakfast and all takeaway materials are provided at no charge for this free small-business training event.

For more information contact: Lexie Andrews at aandrews1@lsu.edu or 225.578.7034.

Visit the CBP at <http://www.centerforbusinessprep.org/news>.

