NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE TEAM ASSESSING RIVERTOWN STORM DAMAGE

Kenner, LA. – Officials from the National Weather Service were in Rivertown Tuesday morning to examine the wind damage to four buildings that occurred overnight sometime around 2 a.m.

The high winds accompanied a storm that apparently caused several barges to break loose and enter the Parish Line Canal. They are now resting near Lake Pontchartrain and the Coast Guard is headed to that area, according to the Levee District.

Crews from Kenner's Public Works, Code Enforcement, Recreation and Fire and Police Departments were all on scene to assess damages and take care of any necessary emergency repairs.
